

Phoenix Rising Yoga Therapy

STUDENT RIGHTS & RESPONSIBILITIES

Before participating in Phoenix Rising Yoga Therapy training courses, students are asked to affirm the following:

- I acknowledge that I am registering for and participating in this course of my own free will.
- I acknowledge that all trainings with Phoenix Rising Yoga Therapy include touch and the movement of bodies – either under my own volition or by permission with another student, staff or faculty.
- I recognize my right to speak against touch or request an immediate change in pressure, location or anything else pertaining to touch at any moment throughout any of the training programs.
- I recognize that dialogue techniques are used in conjunction with assisted postures and recognize my right in what I choose to speak out loud or keep private. Furthermore, I recognize that it is my responsibility to speak out loud anytime I am feeling unsafe or have reservations about going any further with said technique.
- I recognize that I have rights and am able to ask to speak with faculty, program director or school director about any questions or concerns I have regarding an experience in a training program.
- I recognize that I am not certified to practice or to advertise myself as certified to practice any techniques taught to me unless under the supervision of a PRYT trained mentor or I have graduated from the final level of study.
